THOUGHT and COMMENT

Where Is Ours?

The following editorial from the Saturday morning issue of the San Francisco Examiner is a good food for thought in this city at the present time:

"The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is not the only source from which congratulations have come to the Board of Supervisors for including in the budget an appropriation of $100,000 for a San Francisco Airport.

Every citizen knows the need for such an airport, and there is general gratification that this long-awaited progressive step is being taken, with the municipality in its proper position of leadership.

"It is acknowledged, however, that the exact location of the proposed airport will not be easy to find. A false step in that all-important matter would be permanently detrimental to the city's interest. The requirements for an airport are: That the land must be level; that it must be free as possible from dangerous or twisting air currents; that it must be easily to find from the air, both by landmark and by freedom from fog; that it must be sufficiently aloof to avoid the hazard of nearby buildings or power lines; that airplane concerns could locate near at hand, and finally, that it should be well situated as to highway and street access to the central post-office of the city.

"Now, San Francisco has but 14 per cent of level land; the lack of such lands for industrial sites is already a problem. Air currents are said to be bad in some places where land might be reclaimed. A site outside the county line would require a charter amendment and action by the next State legislature thereafter; a year, that, of delay. If the Air Mail and commercial lines should become well established elsewhere during that year, the delay might be of serious consequence.

"The possibility has been suggested that temporary use of a government tract, adjoining the present Crissy landing field, might be secured—such use would be purely temporary, of course. Such an arrangement would bring this new industry inside the city limits, where it preferably belongs, and would permit time to be devoted to a thorough, careful, unprejudiced study and choice of the site that would later become permanent. Whether this suggestion be adopted or some other temporary plan, the location of the permanent San Francisco Airport is far too important a matter to be rushed. That the funds for a start are supplied by the city is real cause for rejoicing."

RICHARD EDMOND SLATTERY

Slattery was born in Jackson county, Iowa. He received his early training there and later his parents insisted that he learn the tin and hardware business. Slattery wishing to please his parents went to work in a country hardware store, where he learned to be a full-fledged tinker and hardware man. Later he went on the road selling hardware for the Schrieder-Conchard Manufacturing company, of Dubuque, Iowa. Slattery later became superintendent of a factory with four men under his guidance. When he left this position after 12 years service, there were 285 men employed and working under him.

In the spring of 1903, Slattery came to Richmond and started the Richmond Manufacturing company, the largest plant of its kind here at that time. The venture did not prove successful, however, and he went into the contracting business. Along about that time the late L. H. Schrieder, who knew Slattery in the east, induced him to enter the furniture business. In 1913 Slattery headed the call and has been active with the company ever since. Slattery has seen the L. H. Schrieder company grow from a hole-in-the-wall to one of the largest furniture houses in the Eastbay section. Most of the homes in Richmond have furniture, secured from the Schrieder company.

Slattery is a member of the Rotary club and the Masonic body. He has the proud distinction of being a member of the Grammam school board and has served as a member of that board for the past 12 years.

He is always keenly interested in all civic activities and always glad to lend a hand in anything that will help Richmond. His hobby is good literature.

Editors Note: This is another one of our series of sketches of public spirited men and community builders of Richmond. Our purpose is twofold—that individuals who have given their time and ability for the purpose of the community may be given recognition, and that such recognition may encourage others to think and act the part of community builders.

Dr. Collins, an authority on how to raise boys quotes the following: "The hope of the American Nation lies in the fact that the American boy will not be that which his parents want him to be."

The foregoing seems to fit in with Richard Edmond Slattery, vice-president of the L. H. Schrieder Furniture company.

Massie's Fate is In Hands of Jury

(By Universal Service)
BRIGHTON, COLO., May 22.—The fate of Virgil A. Massie, former State prohibition sleuth charged with the murder by arsenic poisoning of his wife Catherine Rosenboom Massie was in the hands of a jury tonight.

Whether Mrs. Rene Divilbess, confessed "friend" of Massie, who is ten years her junior, will have to face trial on charges of murder in connection with Mrs. Massie's death will depend also upon the decision of the twelve Adams county farmers, who will say whether Massie shall go free or be sent to the State penitentiary for the remainder of his life. District Judge Samuel Johnson, in his instructions to the jury this afternoon ruled that these were the only alternatives for the jury to decide.

The afternoon session was taken up with closing arguments of State and defense, the jury retired for deliberations shortly after six o'clock.

Standard Installs Cracking Process

Improvements amounting to over $1,000,000 will be made by the Standard Oil company to install the new cracking process in the manufacturing of gasoline, according to an announcement made by the company. James S. Wells, of New York City, has arrived to direct the installation of the new process which is being established in all of the larger oil refineries throughout the country.

It is understood that this new process will also be installed at the Union Oil company refinery in that plant will also be directed by Wells. He is at present registered at the Hotel Yale and plans to make his home in Richmond.

HEAVY INFLOX OF TOURISTS TO STATE COMING

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, May 22.—California will witness during the remaining seven months of the present year the heaviest influx of visitors in the history of the state, according to present indications tabulated by steamship and travel agencies.

At the present time, due to the recent unsettled conditions that have arisen in Great Britain and other European centers, all travel records on liners of the Panama Mail through the canal both ways between New York and San Francisco via Havana, South America, Central America and Mexico have been broken, as many who formerly made Europe their mecca during the summer and autumn are now planning to come to the Pacific Coast and other pleasure lands this year.

Not alone California, but the entire Pacific Coast will profit by the heavy influx of visitors. Hotel operators and others benefited by tourist trade are looking forward to one of the best years in the history of the Pacific Coast. Central America and Mexican pleasure centers will receive their share of this travel, as the Panama Mail offices are receiving applications for passage with stop-over privileges at these countries. However, California, through the extensive advertising campaign throughout the East, pointing out the beauties and ideal climate of the state during the summer and year around will lure the majority of the travelers, according to officials of the Panama Mail line.

The Panama Mail liner "Ecuador" which arrived in New York with a capacity list last Monday is sailing today for San Francisco via the Panama Canal. Among the prominent passengers are the following: Doctors H. Wm. Brown, M.C. Hall, N. B. Stein and W. C. Sweet, of the Rockefeller Foundation, en route to the Panama Canal zone, where they will probably tranship to South America; Captain A. Ackerman, retired naval officer and Mrs. Ackerman, M. M. Denman, retired naval officer, en route to Hawaii; Mrs. Denman and Miss Adelaide Denman, en route to San Francisco where they intend to take up permanent residence; W. Hunt Hall, general insurance broker; C. H. Schoonmaker, retired captain of Glenview, New York and Lake Wales, Florida, on a pleasure trip to Los Angeles; Mrs. George L. Russell, wife of Alfred C. Pels, assistant general freight agent of the Panama Mail S. S. Co.

"Beer Ring" Probe To End This Week

CLEVELAND, O., May 22.—Inquiry into an alleged gigantic "Beer Ring", working in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and West Virginia was temporarily suspended today when the federal grand jury adjourned until Monday morning.

Several witnesses were heard but thus far little has been given out by the federal investigators as to the inner workings of the alleged "beer trust."

When the grand jury reconvenes Monday the inquiry will be speeded up in an effort to conclude the inquiry by the end of next week. It is believed that a total of two hundred people may be indicted.

Sunken Sub to be Raised This Week

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Within the next few days the wreck of the submarine S-51 sunk in collision with the steamer City of Rome off Block Island last September, will be raised to the surface, Secretary of the Navy Willbur announced today.

Six pontoons have been lowered and girded to the sub's hull. Two more remain to be placed. When the water in the pontoons is pumped out and replaced by air the submarine will rise to the surface, Secretary Willbur said.

By June 12, the wreck is expected to be at the Brooklyn navy yard for investigation and salvaging operations.

John Miller and H. O. Watson, of this city were in Martinez yesterday afternoon on a business trip.

State Democrats Sidetrack Wet Dry Issue

Phelan Given Demonstration When Suggested as Candidate
(By Universal Service)
SANTA CRUZ, May 22.—California Democrats holding their state convention here today side tracked the wet and dry issue.

Following fourteen hours of debate, the resolution committee, headed by chairman O. K. Chusing, delivered its report late today, omitting reference or making any recommendation to the resolution introduced by George W. Smith of Santa Cruz, calling for submission of the issue to the voters of the state.

The committee refused to reconsider its previous action when the resolution was voted down 15 to 8.

Declaration of party principals was reported and unanimously adopted. It calls for amendment of the state primary law to permit part pre-primary conventions for adoption of platforms and recommendation of candidates and declares the present law now sees candidates seeking office rather than the office seeking the man.

It deplores "the steady encroachment of Federal power and regulation in purely state functions" and termed the present national government "Bureaucratic."

It charged the party "has been long on promises but short on results on taxation and economy."

It reaffirmed the belief of the party in state aid in the development of arid lands, transportation and all manner of farm relief, favored abolition of state commissions especially "arbitrary commissions" and asked for the tightening up of crime prevention measures and curtailment of easy paroles.

It also demanded reappointment of California Congressional districts and said the state is entitled to more.

Only four resolutions were presented on the floor. The Dockweiler resolution calling on the national committee to abandon the two-thirds and unit rule in the national conventions was reported favorably and carried by a large vote after bitter condemnation from W. B. Bunker had declared "there are no positions in the closing of the bosses are paying for this vicious campaign." Another resolution endorsed the veterans aid proposition on the coming state platform.

Two other resolutions were adopted on the floor. One calls for the appointment of a committee of twelve members which will be empowered to reconvene the convention at any time and which will have power to further amend the platform and to call for a caucus. It is understood this committee will establish headquarters in both San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The other resolution strongly endorsed the Boulder Dam project. The nearest the convention came to nominations was in the closing minutes of the session when Lewis D. Byington of San Francisco took the platform and expressed regret that such a representative gathering should adjourn without giving to the party an outstanding leader.

He followed this with a suggestion of former United States Senator James D. Phelan as a candidate for Governor "who could lead the party to victory."

A four minute demonstration followed. He also suggested William Kettner of San Diego as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Woman Injured in Fall from Auto

Hurtled from an automobile at Washington and Richmond avenues Friday night, Mrs. J. P. Smith sustained injuries which have placed her under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Smith was leaning against the door of the car driven by her husband when the machine making a sharp turn forced Mrs. Smith against the door. The latch had failed to catch and the door swung open throwing Mrs. Smith to the pavement.

She was immediately rushed to her home. According to Dr. W. S. Lucas, who is attending her, she is suffering from bruises about the body and possible internal injuries.

Chamber Represented At S. F. Celebration

Mrs. Norah Gottle represented the Richmond Chamber of Commerce at the Emporium store's thirtieth birthday celebration at San Francisco last night. Mrs. Gottle was feted by the store officials and was present at the huge masquerade ball staged at the store prior to a tour of San Francisco by motor. Later the guests, which included representatives of sixteen cities, were present at the dinner held in the Cliff House.

Bench Warrant for Pittsburg Speeder

PITTSBURG, May 22.—A bench warrant for the arrest of Edward Lowe of San Francisco, a motor car dealer, was issued today by Justice Wade Moore when Lowe failed to appear on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour.

Traffic Officer Harry Boyer, who tagged Lowe declares that Lowe said he would "get out of it."

Innocent Man Freed After Eight Years

By Universal Service
TRENTON, N. J., May 22.—Rafaello Morelli, an innocent man who served eight years in prison, was freed today.

He was convicted on a charge of killing his wife because of an error in translation.

After his wife had killed herself, Morelli sought to follow her to the grave but only wounded himself. When found by a friend Morelli murmured:

"She brought it on herself."

This was reported at his trial but the court interpreter translated the remark to: "She made him do it by her actions."

He was sentenced to life in prison where he learned English and told the correct story to the board of pardons.

Morelli wept all today for joy. He was placed under $1,000 bond to appear before the immigration authorities should they decide to deport him as an undesirable alien.

GUARDS LOCATE HIDING CONVICT

Within fifty feet from the jute mill where he was last seen, Arthur Owen Davis, youthful murderer serving a life term in San Quentin prison, where he was believed to have escaped last Monday, was found yesterday in an improvised cave in a cob house adjoining the jute mill. Although he had been absent from meals for five days, Davis refused food offered to him, which leads the prison authorities to believe that he had been fed by prisoners who knew of his hiding place.

The prison officials scouted the idea that he had escaped and began a thorough search of the grounds and buildings. The cob house had been inspected several times and it is believed that Davis managed to keep one jump ahead of his pursuers. In the meantime authorities throughout the northern and central sections of the state were seeking for Davis, believing that probably he had escaped.

Davis was found yesterday by Superintendent E. Zuber of the jute mill and Captain Patrick Monahan of the mill. He was immediately taken before the captain of the yard, Elmer Hobbs and later placed in the dungeon.

PLEADS GUILTY ON RUM CHARGE

George Solich, 57 Washington avenue pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of liquor before Police Judge C. A. Odell last night following a raid on his establishment by a squad of policemen led by Chief of Police Dan Cox.

According to the raiding officers several quarts of "liquor" were found when they entered the place and placed Solich under arrest.

Solich was released on $500 bail and will appear before Judge Odell on Monday morning for sentence.

HORNER DENIES PART IN SUIT

Denying that he had been deeded property in 1922 which is now involved in a suit filed in Martinez, Attorney C. D. Horner of Richmond yesterday declared that he had not been notified that he had been named a defendant in the suit.

The suit was filed by Mitchell Cure, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Louise Hickman, who contends that Mrs. Emma Wells Carlquist exercised her influence over Mrs. Hickman in securing power of attorney and conveyed the property in question to Lowell Carlquist who later deeded the property consisting of a Richmond lot to C. D. Horner. Cure is asking for a decree to quiet title to the property and also asks a judgment of $600 which he claims is due in rentals.

Miss Ruth McMenamin, of this city was the guest at the home of Mrs. C. C. Scott at Martinez yesterday.

Mrs. S. G. Little, 302 Santa Fe avenue, left yesterday for Sacramento to visit her husband, who is employed there.

SABOTAGE IS WEAPON IN BUILDERS WAR

Two Walls of Building Under Construction are Torn Down During Night in Two Attacks

The first destruction of work since the carpenter's strike began April 1 was reported in San Francisco yesterday when two of three frame-work walls of an apartment house on Webster and Eddy streets were found practically demolished when the contractors arrived on the job yesterday morning.

Prior to this, strike violence has manifested itself only on attacks on workmen on American plan jobs.

Investigation was made by Captain of Police J. J. Casey of the Bush street station and revealed that two attacks had been made on the apartment. One was said to have occurred at eight o'clock Friday night and the other an hour or so later. It is said that the damage was caused by only two men. The skeleton work was demolished; the supports on the west wall had been knocked away and the south wall had been wrecked when the contractors arrived.

Work on demolishing the building was interrupted by passers-by but the two men returned soon after, wrecked an out house and tampered with the lock on a tool shed.

While engaged in this latter work they were frightened away by a neighbor who viewed the scene from a near-by window and investigated.

Two men arrested previously at an attack on a non-union workman and charged with battery and disturbing the peace were fined yesterday by Police Judge L. T. Jacks. Two other cases were dismissed.

McLean, a retired railroad man, died at San Francisco on Thursday. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. J. Haberkorn, Richmond; Mrs. C. Bowser, San Francisco and Mrs. D. Thorton, Richmond.

George Inquest to Be Held Tuesday

Coroner Charles F. Downey will conduct an inquest on Tuesday over the body of Dr. W. G. George of Antioch, who drowned in his home this week. An autopsy disclosed that apoplexy was the cause of the death. The doctor was apparently in good health early in the evening, but was found dead a few hours later.

Believe Body Of Evangelist Sighted

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, May 25.—An airplane pilot reported to Santa Monica police late today that a dark object resembling a body, thought to be that of Mrs. Almee Semple Mobergson, missing since Tuesday, had been sighted several miles off Crystal Pier. Boats were sent out from Santa Monica to investigate.

The body was floating in a mass of driftwood the airplane pilot reported.

The police were investigating another report to the effect that the body of a woman had been recovered off Redondo beach this afternoon by two fishermen.

REDUCING THE DEBT

Month by month it becomes more evident that Presidents Harding and Coolidge made no mistake in selecting Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the United States Treasury. The new tax law is working even better than was anticipated and the careful financing of the government by Mr. Mellon's department continues to achieve practical results in other directions.

It is expected now that there will be a reduction of the public debt of $750,000,000 for the fiscal year 1925-26 which ends on June 30 of this year. The gross public debt at the end of June 1925 was $20,516,272,174 and if it is cut down three quarters of a billion during this fiscal year the total of the debt will fall below twenty billions and this reduction further would represent a saving of about $30,000,000 a year in public interest charges, which of course, is a direct saving to the tax payers.

The gross public debt of the United States reached its highest point in 1919, less than two years before the republican administration came into power. It then amounted to a little more than twenty-six and a half billion dollars. If the reduction predicted is made this year, it will mean that the debt has been reduced since that time in the sum of $7,000,000,000 which is about a billion dollars a year, not a bad average, and certainly a tribute to the financial ability of Mr. Mellon and to the efficiency and economy of the whole administration.

In addition to this big debt reduction it is believed that there will be a treasury surplus in the neighborhood of $27,000,000. This reduction of the debt and increase in surplus will be the greatest achieved in any single year since the present program of economy and debt reduction was commenced and shows that the financial situation is constantly and steadily improving. In the fiscal year 1924-25 which had been the high water mark, the debt reduction was $734,000,000 and the surplus $250,000,000.

The probable debt reduction and surplus is going to exceed expectations. Owing to the reduction in income tax rates it was not believed that there could be as great a reduction this year as last. But the new tax has brought in revenue in a surprisingly satisfactory manner, showing the prosperity and business stability of the country.

The handling of the short term debts has been done so skillfully by Mr. Mellon and his department that there will be no maturities of great volume until 1928 when the third Liberty Loan bonds fall due and no one doubts that this situation will be handled in a manner as satisfactory as have all similar problems up to date.

The decreasing of the debt and increasing of the surplus are bound to have a favorable effect on business, it is believed. Certainly the taxpayers of the country regardless of politics have reason to be thankful for Secretary Mellon.

FALSE FRIENDS OF LABOR

Washington reads with no little amusement some of the speeches turned out by the democratic publicity bureau protesting the love which the democratic party bears toward the laboring man, because it has been recognized here for years that some of the bitterest foes of organized labor in congress are members of the democratic party.

As evidence of this the American Federation of Labor recently issued a manifesto calling on all friends of organized labor to work toward the defeat of Congressman Finis J. Garrett of Tennessee, the minority leader of the house, who, in the improbable

THE WAR OF 1812

The white settlers in the Middle West territory seemed never to be free of trouble from the Indian quarters. New Tecumseh, a famous Indian chief of Ohio, united the savage tribes of the west in a plot to drive out the whites. General Harrison, who was to become president many years later, met the Indians at Tippecanoe in the Indiana territory, and defeated them in a great battle. Though Tecumseh was not in the battle, he took a leading part in later ones, led by the English. The belief of many Americans that England had secretly encouraged Tecumseh's plot helped to increase their desire for war with Great Britain.

There were other contributing causes to the war, but the final reason lay in the fact that England persisted in stopping our ships, taking our seamen out of them and forcing them to enter her service and help fight for her. Though she excused herself by saying that the men she seized were British subjects who had deserted and entered our service, this was true in only a few cases. Any able-bodied seaman was taken, and thousands of our citizens were kidnapped before we took the final step to end the outrage. Congress declared war in the summer of 1812. New England was opposed to fighting, knowing that such a war would ruin what commerce she had, but the rest of the country was in favor of it. The war began with a hurrah for "Free Trade and Sailors' Rights".

DISARMAMENT SIDETRACKED BY THE LEAGUE

By ROBERT J. FREW
Special Cable to Universal Service.
LONDON, May 21.—Disarmament has been definitely sidetracked in Europe and Asia and the league of nations has again revealed its impotency to govern the major affairs of nations.

These facts are developed from official advices from Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, principal British delegate to Geneva, received at Whitehall. Today Universal Service is informed that the British Foreign office has reached a conclusion that any attempt to arrange a disarmament conference in the near future would result in a fiasco which would be prejudicial to the cause of disarmament for many years.

It is now officially explained that the present meetings at Geneva were not designed to "prepare" for a conference, but to discover if such a conference would have a chance to succeed. After three days of parleys at Geneva, the foreign office has definitely decided that the conference, if called, would break down.

The official reason given is that with Russia not participating and with Germany still not a member of the league, disarmament would be effectually blocked, but there are other reasons which are not officially stated. The Daily Telegraph, which maintains that the British desire to further limit armaments is sincere, says:

"Continental Europe as a whole, and particularly the group formed by France and her eastern allies and friends in the Russian border states, have not yet the will for disarmament. The decision to shelve the conference resulted from several days of controversy between Lord Cecil and M. Paul Boncour.

"It was because the French wanted to avoid an open conflict of opinion with London and Washington that they sought for months to put off the meeting of the preparatory commission. France plainly intimates that she cannot reduce her armaments unless she event of a democratic majority in the lower branch, would become its speaker.

The high officials of the A. F. of L. regard Garrett as one of the organization's most dangerous foes, as he has consistently opposed legislation directed toward improvement of the lot of the workingman. Labor shares the same views toward Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of Texas, who represents a great farming section in the western part of the state, and who for several campaigns has put forward as his only issue the fact that he is hated by the officials of the A. F. of L.

LESSON IN HOME DRESSMAKING

A Negligee with Extended Shoulders, Surplice-Closing Front and Graceful Flowing Sleeves

THREE important details characterize this negligee—the surplice-closing front, long flowing sleeves, and the extended shoulders. There is a suggestion of a fourth important style note in the slight fullness that ripples below the waistline in front. Five and one-eighth yards of material 36 inches wide are required to develop the model in medium size, any of the soft pliable fabrics being appropriate for the purpose.

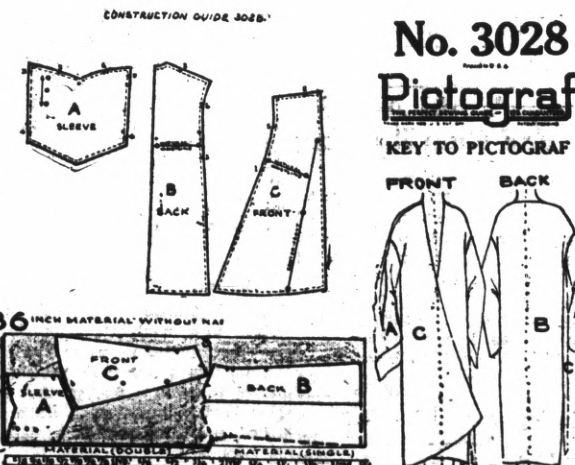

Side-closing Negligee

Because of the irregular lower edge of the negligee, it will be necessary to cut out the various sections precisely as indicated in the cutting guide. Place the front and sleeve on a double width of material, then cut the back from an open width.

Carefully indicate all notches and perforations. Then close the underarm seam of negligee, leaving edges free above the medium perforation in back. Next, close underarm seam, lapping the right front of the garment over the left, with center-fronts even. Finish for closing at left-side front. Close seam of sleeve A, leaving edges free between the medium perforations. Sew sleeve to arm-hole edge as notched, with seam of sleeve at shoulder seam, bringing medium perforations to underarm seam. Ease in fullness between the notches and hold sleeve toward you when adjusting it. In cutting the negligee, pin the pattern pieces on the material carefully, then cut around edges.

Lace or embroidery may be added as an embellishment if desired.

Music and Musicians

By MME. COBINA WRIGHT
Society's Renowned Singer and Writer
(Copyright, 1926, by Universal Service)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Woman is coming into her own in the musical as well as every other field; and I cite as an example Carolyn Beebe, an accomplished pianist, whose love of chamber music has evidenced itself in a highly constructive and artistic manner. To quote her, "It has always been my dream to recapture the delicate sincere and charming atmosphere of the historic salon, and to present the greatest compositions executed in the most flawless manner in a more intimate and informal way than in a concert hall."

To this end she has engaged the ballroom of the Plaza hotel for every third Sunday of the month during the season. Here is indeed an occasion to drive away the Sabbath doldrums—an occasion on which social and musical celebrities hobnob during the performance and partake of an informal buffet supper in a most intimate and delightful fashion.

The atmosphere is unique, and when I was the soloist for one of these soirees last winter I was struck at once by the responsiveness of the audience, for they were one and all real music lovers and nothing is more inspiring to an artist. For these evenings the New York string quartet plays perhaps a composition by Ravel, and there is usually a soloist as well.

Miss Beebe, an active little woman, often plays herself, and combines her musical duties with that of a charming and gracious hostess. I sometimes wonder that so diminutive a person can accomplish so much and yet her summer, for example, provides no rest for the proverbially weary. She will spend part of her time at the Chronicle House, the art center of Asheville, of which she has recently been designated a director, and will conduct a series of master classes in Southampton, Long Island, before going to Europe in search of manuscripts and novelties for her concerts next season. As well as this she is keeping a wary eye on the prize composition that is to win the thousand dollars prize offered by C. C. Birchard for an instrumental work to be played by the Carolyn Beebe New York Chamber Music Society.

Such activity seems to me to make the busy bee resemble a sluggard!

Philadelphia boasts a happy girl. She is Jeanne Behrend, a pupil of Josef Hofmann at the Curtis Institute. Despite her youth—she is only fifteen—she has already shown marked ability as a composer, and I hear that Hofmann is to feature one of her works, "The Old Scissors Grinder" on his programs next season, and honor which is coveted by far more experienced composers.

This week has seen the departure of our American sopranos, Florence Easton and Mary Lewis, Rudolf Ganz, Florence Mills, Mlle.

Mitel, besides Kathryn Meisle, contralto of the Civic Opera in Chicago, and Maria Kurenko, Russian coloratura; in fact Europe is pretty well crowded with musicians who have completed the season's work in America. Some of course are merely pleasure bent; others are to appear in foreign opera houses and concert halls; while still others will study and improve the shining hour as well as their repertoire.

Mary Lewis, for example, has no intention of letting the summer grass grow under her feet for in addition to making a few appearances abroad she will skip over to Salzburg for three months study with the famous coach Lilli Lehman. The Kochansky's are going to their summer home near the Alps, where later I shall visit them, and Heifetz is in Paris where his recitals have been a huge success.

Luciozia Bori is in Spain with her family. Scotti is going to Italy and so on. As a matter of fact, the only artist I know of who is staying in America for the entire season is little Marion Talley, who has a number of engagements to fulfill and plans to work awfully hard in between times right here in little old New York.

On Saturday I shall sail on the Paris with my husband and little daughter to join our many friends now frolicking "over there." I shall find them I know in London, Paris and Berlin, and in the high ways and by ways of the country side, and at the famous Spas, where Europeans go for the "cure." When General Pershing arrives in France later in the summer, he has promised to give our party a personally conducted tour over the battle fields of France.

Kurt Schindler told me just before he sailed that he was going to Baden-Baden for a month, and Marguerite d'Alvarez, the famous Peruvian soprano, has taken her sparkling wit and fine voice to Paris, where she will doubtless "over when I arrive."

I find, too, that Ruth Draper, who is a fellow passenger on the Paris, and doubtless will discover numerous songbirds and celebrities for every outgoing steamer these days reads like a floating Baedeker to notables.

At the end of four months travel on the continent I know I will have many anecdotes to relate, of famous people enjoying the Dolce Far Neinte.

HOLEPROOF OF ALL FINE HOSIERY OFFERS

5 Unique Fashion Features

Plus 31 new Paris colors

NOTE HOLEPROOF's 5 famous style points carefully. Together they safeguard you against imperfect hose. In style—in sheer richness of beauty, this hosiery stands supreme. Through special features smartness is increased to an extraordinary degree. And HOLEPROOF styles are accepted as authoritative.

A few manufacturers of fine hosiery may offer you some of these features, but not one can give them all. By them fashion tells you to judge silk hosiery:

(1) Exquisite clearness. In sheer chiffons, clearness comes only with the use of uniformly even thread. The lack of it in cheaper silk causes unsightly shadow rings. So, at greater cost, HOLEPROOF selects China silk; judged finest of all oriental grades.

(2) Correct Paris shades. Paris authorities select the newest colors. A unique scientific dyeing process keeps them clear and bright. Our anti-fade treatment protects from fading.

(3) Superlative transparency. Even in the heavier weights there is no cloudiness, no streaks. First, the silk is specially tested, then it undergoes the special scientific HOLEPROOF treatment.

(4) No loose ends. Loose threads mar appearance. So HOLEPROOF carefully trims the inside of each stocking by hand.

(5) No imperfections. Style vanishes with imperfections. And here HOLEPROOF safeguards you by mine separate inspections. It is a fact that few other fine hose are so uniformly perfect.

Every HOLEPROOF number has this five-fold fashion safety. Every color is new—every style is faultlessly and fashionably correct.

HUDSON COACH

All Closed Car Comforts—Masterful Performance—Low Cost

Note Well These Claims—They Are Supported by 800,000 Owners

Lasting pride of ownership comes from masterful performance, ease of operation and maintenance, from reliability and economy.
These qualities cannot be revealed by any other test than actual performance over long periods of time and in the hands of every type of user.
Hudson holds first advantage because of its patented Super-Six—the world's most famous motor. More than 800,000 have been built by Hudson under its exclusive principle. For 11 years it has been outstanding because of distinctive smoothness, wide flexibility, power, speed, and reliability.
Hudson is easy to steer. Its power range is so great that gear shifting is lessened, and the riding action is so well arranged that long hours at the wheel are not tiring.
Economy is found in low operating and maintenance cost.
These are the qualities that make genuine satisfaction. Upon such a chassis is mounted the Coach. It gives all closed car comforts. It is sturdy, beautiful in line, and complete in every practical detail. Its sale has exceeded that of any closed car priced above $1,000. That production has led to greater economy and much lower prices. It has permitted many improvements in chassis and body.
So today's Hudson Coach is not only the best ever built. It also is priced lower than ever before.

VIEWS OF OLD IRELAND IN "IRISH LUCK"

A generous sight seeing tour of Ireland is included in the new Thomas Meighan picture, "Irish Luck," which the star went to Erin to film for Paramount, and which comes to the screen of the Richmond theatre today.

The camera is trained on many Irish landmarks as a part of the story in which Meighan figures. One is the "Queen's Cottage" at Killarney, where Queen Victoria spent several years in her youth. Another is Slane Castle, on the site of the Battle of Boyne, during the seventeenth century.

While in Ireland Meighan and his director, Victor Heerman, signed several English players who returned with the company to New York to complete the picture in the Astoria, L. I. Paramount studio.

Lois Wilson is featured opposite the star in the production which is a screen version of "An Imperfect Imposter" by Norman Vener, a story that ran as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post. Tom Gerahy wrote the screen play.

Other features on the same program include "Baby Blues," a juvenile comedy; and "Kinograms" world news events.

Starting tomorrow, for its first Richmond showing "The Gilded Butterfly," featuring Alma Rubens and Bert Lytell.

First of Big Summer Shows At California

The first of the big summer shows comes to the California Theatre today, with a diversified bill of five acts of headliner vaudeville, in conjunction with the screen feature, "The Exquisite Sinner," featuring Conrad Nagel and Renee Adoree.

"A Vaudeville Revue," with Suzette, Jose and company, as the principals, is a high class dancing and singing presentation that is sure to be the paramount attraction on this bill of vaudeville. Suzette and Jose were the featured dancers with "Honey Girl," the popular musical comedy, hit recently produced in San Francisco. In their series of terpsichorean efforts they specialize in Spanish and South American numbers with dainty vocalists offering some popular vocal hits.

Althea Lucas and company, in an "artistic triumph," are a big time couple with a brilliantly presented aerial gymnastic novelty that never fails to hit the popular taste. Miss Althea, unlike most artists who indulge in these branches of athletics does the major portion of the difficult tricks with her male partner an able assistant in several of the more sensational stunts.

Agnes Kayne and company, "Two Funny Boys," comedy funsters, are acts that are sure fire, making in all a well worth while entertainment. On the screen, in conjunction with the big vaudeville bill, Josef Von Sternberg presents his new film, "The Exquisite Sinner," adapted from Alden Brooks' novel "Escape," and features Conrad Nagel and Renee Adoree in the romantic roles.

"The Exquisite Sinner" is a delightful story with a French locale. It tells the adventures of a soul-weary youth who burst the bonds of a matter-of-fact existence and went a-wandering—with a gypsy girl.

A brilliant cast in support of the stars includes Paulette Goddard, Frank Currier, George K. Arthur, Matthew Betz, Helena D'Algy and Claire DuBrey.

Other features on the same program include "Who's Boss," a comedy scream; "Kinograms" world news events; Carl Richard's California Orchestra; and Larry Canelo, at the huge organ.

VACATION BUG IS BITING IN WASHINGTON

By GEORGINA WASHINGTON (By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON May 22.—The great exodus is just about to begin.

It's time now for all good cabinet officers and diplomats, aye, and congressmen, too, to think about vacationing this American capital for the hot months. In another month everybody's neighbor will be gone.

President Coolidge started the ball rolling by announcing that the Summer White House would be at that lovely Kirkwood camp on Lake Osgood in the Adirondacks. Then along came the "official family" with plans.

The Dawses, for instance, are going home to Evanston, Ill., where they can get some lake breezes. Their home will be all freshened up for the summer by the time their royal guests arrive. The guests, of course, are the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden, who are going west, young man.

The Kelloggs are hurrying home, too, for the purpose of entertaining these same distinguished visitors. The Prince will stop over in St. Paul with the secretary of State while making the rounds of the extensive Swedish settlements in the north middle states.

Camp life appeals to the post-master-general and his lady. Mrs. New, in fact, is such a good shot with the camera—that she has been made a member of the White House photographers' Association. So she is anticipating the most joyous vacation at the new camp in the Michigan woods.

Country life appeals also to the secretary of war, who is taking Mrs. Davis to Dark Harbor, Maine. The Jardines, who of course are out-of-door people, are going to their cottage on Long Island, where they can while away the long days in the open.

Secretary of Labor Davis has a tender feeling for Mooseheart, that charming home in Illinois which the order of Moose, of which he is one, keeps for its widows and orphans. The secretary and his family, (there are five little Davises now, you know) have for many years summered there and this season will be no exception.

The Hoovers and the Wilburs are California bound, heigh-ho; and Attorney-General Sargent, though he hasn't definitely said so, is expected to hike up to his Vermont home, where he used to be neighbors of the Coolidges.

There's only one cabinet member who's going to stay right here at home. That's Dr. Work of the department of the interior. He's going to work.

What with the recent horse show and garden parties galore, May hasn't been such a dull month. But for downright unique entertainment, at which no blase Dower could turn up her nose, we take off our hat to the hop. Indian dance, staged right in front of the capital where many a president has taken the oath of office.

The dance, arranged by Senator Cameron of Arizona to show his brethren that redskin religious ceremonies aren't as bad as they're painted, was the rain-maker's dance. It was successful—it rained that every night much to the relief of capital gradenas.

But the dance itself, the oddest sort of thing with snakes and things, brought society to the steps and terraces and turrets of the big building.

There was the vice-president in the front row, puffing away at his funny pipe in blissful comfort. The Longworths were there too. Princess Alice all in brilliant red, frock and floppy hat. And Mrs. Kellogg, and Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the British Ambassador.

I picked out the Hungarian minister and Countess Szechenyi, she who was Gertrude Vanderbilt, and the little Szechenyis clapping their hands in great glee. I saw the Serbian minister, too. And Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett and Mrs. O. Tilson, John Tilson and her daughters.

Then there were the Sol Blooms of New York. Mrs. Louis A. Forth-eringham, wife the Massachusetts representative, Congress-woman Florence Kahn, and the entire family of John Hay Hammond. Oh, it was a lot of fun, that rain-maker's dance.

People are always coming and going in Washington—or rather "through" it.

While bidding welcome to the Crown Prince and his Menage, the capital is saying adieu to the French Ambassador and his charming wife. M. and Mme. Berenger sailed this week for France and who knows the whim of fate before time for them to return. They have been here a short time, but

"The practically universal use of the automobile in all professions, businesses and social circles today has established a new and faster pace in both work and play," says J. P. Strom, Hudson and Essex dealer.

"The man who does not own a car is definitely positioned among the constantly diminishing slower group of people. He must work harder to earn the same income and spend more time in merely coming and going. The motorist arrives on the job or at the dance on time, full of pep, and ready to go. The autoless man is apt to be tired out when finally he gets there."

long enough to make themselves much desired.

Again, while Sir Auckland Geddes, sometime British Ambassador and Lady Geddes are coming on a visit, young and old in the society and diplomatic sets are weeping over the sailing from these shores of the dashing Dimitri Dem Dimeanecso.

Young "Dinmy" as an attache of the Rumanian legation, has for several years been the very best Beau of all Washington debbies. Now he is going home for keeps and we are disconsolate.

Sir Auckland will through his visit revive pleasant memories of his days as head of the Embassy here. He used to love tennis, I remember, and so did Lady Geddes. The Howards, now, prefer "fives," that distinctly British game resembling handball.

But no matter what their sportive differences, the Geddes and the Howards are one on making the Embassy a charming rendezvous for young Washington.

Downer to Build New Home Here

A residence which when completed, promises to be one of the finest in the Eastbay region, is being erected by E. M. Downer on Edward avenue, between Charles and Ellerhorst streets in the Mira Vista district.

The sight selected furnishes a view of San Francisco bay, San Pablo bay and Mt. Tamalpais. Spanish architecture has been chosen for the structure, which will be built with two wings, one eighty feet and the other 100 feet in length, partially enclosing a patio. One part of the building will be two stories in height and the other one story with tile roofs.

Carl Overaa has been awarded the contract for the construction, which will cost approximately $35,000. The property on which the new home is being built will cover half a block.

HAROLD LLOYD FILM WILL BE HERE MONDAY

Harold Lloyd, that excellent and bespectacled comedian, who is coming to the California theatre tomorrow, for an engagement of two days, in his latest mirth-provoker, "For Heaven's Sake!" is of the firm opinion that laughter is an aid to longevity. Harkened to Harold's elucidation of his theory: "Laughter is a complex phenomenon, the cause and nature of which have been studied for centuries. That which makes us laugh at a joke or a witty remark or at some sight is hard to analyze. Even highly intellectual people, when asked on the spur of the moment what is particularly funny in a joke or a situation at which they laugh heartily, are unable to put their finger on the special point that wakens in them merriment and laughter."

"In comedy and laughter there is a letting go of the realities of life; there is present a relaxation from the persistent concentration on the problems life constantly sets before us; there is relief from the seriousness of our daily toil."

George Funeral Rites On Monday

Under the auspices of the Stockton lodge of Elks, funeral services for Dr. W. S. George, 76, a physician at Antioch, during the past forty years, who passed away yesterday, will be held in Antioch Monday. Dr. W. S. George was well-known throughout the county, having been county physician at one time.

Bill and Altman Meet Tomorrow

George Bill and C. A. Altman spent a busy day yesterday oiling up their trusty brasses and putting for today's match at the Carquinez club for the championship of the Carquinez club course.

Both players are considered to be the best players at the club and are out for blood in this match, which gives promise of being the best match ever staged at the local club.

Both players are consistent, but Bill seems to have an edge. The breaks of today's game will tell the story.

S. R. M. A. MEN FALL TO LOCAL SCHOOL NINE

The Richmond high school baseball team won the big game of the season from the San Rafael Military academy yesterday at San Rafael by a score of 6-2. Blundy Viljalovos was in the box for the local team and he pitched a superb game and had all of the support in the world to back him up.

The head work of Bill Gualdoni, the little boy in the ironmask also helped the team to take the game.

Heavy hitting by Gualdoni featured the game.

An odd point of the game was the fact that Rowdy Gospc, former local high school football and baseball star pitched against his old school mates. Rowdy pitched a wonderful game but seemed to be lacking support. It will be remembered that last year, Gospc scored the touchdown against the local team in the football game with the San Rafael academy.

This may be the last game of the season for the local team, but they are happy, they won the big game.

OAKS WIN

What are the Oaks doing—playing ball or chasing around the field enjoying themselves. To tell the truth, they finally won a game from the Seattle Indians by a score of 5 to 1, on Friday afternoon at Oakland. If they win today's games they will be sitting pretty, if not well. They still have plenty of games to get to reach the top of the ladder, but there is no reason why they should not be there.

BAKE RUTH

It seems now that the pitchers are getting a bit frightened at the Hon. Babe Ruth, who has been pulling his batting average up by leaps and bounds. In the game with the St. Louis Browns, Ruth got three bases via the four ball route. Keep after the record, Babe, you'll get it!

OAKS GET NEW MAN

The Oaks have finally purchased another player to fill the position left vacant by Lynford Lary, the sensation short stop. The new man to do the Oaks colors is Jimmy Cavey, shortstop for the Seattle Indians, who was once a Seal. He went from the Seals to the Oaks.

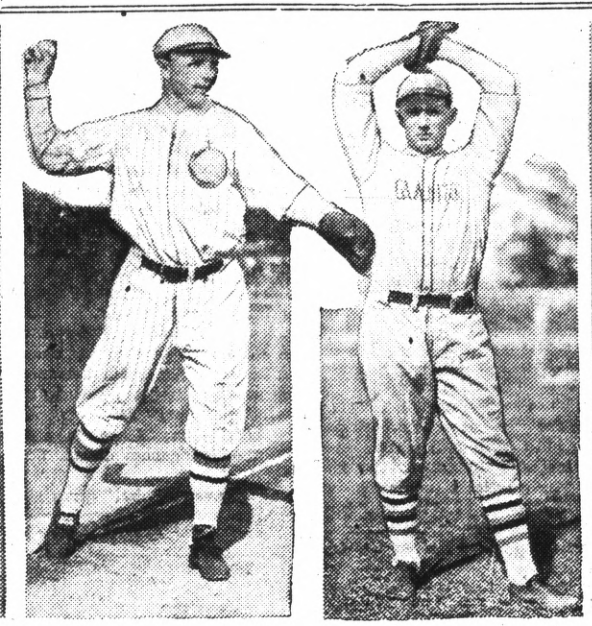

Ironworkers to Play Antioch

The Ironworkers will journey to Antioch today to meet the Antioch team there in the fourth game for the local team. Three games have the local team lost, but they are quite confident that they will be able to take today's game from the up-country team.

Phil Jones, manager player of the local team reports that he has the best pitching staff of the league, but is lacking in the supporting staff.

Nehf Is Sold to Cincinnati Reds, Groh Released; Star Pitcher and Infielder Cost Giants $150,000

"It is the policy of our club to build up with younger men," explained Manager John J. McGraw of the New York National League club in discussing the sale of Arthur Nehf, veteran pitcher, to Cincinnati, and the unconditional release of Heinie Groh, another leading figure in the Giants' four-year championship team of 1921-1924. "As long as Groh was kept it would be impossible to try out a younger man, because of the player limit of 25 men, effective June 15," continued McGraw. "Groh's case is much the same as Nehf's."

The personnel of the baseball team formed by Boy Scout Troop No. 1 has been announced. The boys are out practicing for games to be held in the near future.

Featuring summer camping, a novel display has been arranged by J. P. Strom in the windows of his display room on Macdonald avenue and Thirteenth street.

The display features an Essex coupe in a setting of California mountains, pine trees and a running brook forms the background for display. In the foreground a complete camping outfit, consisting of a portable tent, camp chairs and cooking utensils and all the paraphernalia devised for the comforts of campers, has been arranged to lure the city dweller back to nature.

At nighttime, flood lights shed a soft lustrous light giving the impression of moonlight in the hills. The display is well arranged and well worth visiting.

Cincinnati in the National league and came back to the Coast league with the Indians, Glenn McNally, who proved a fizzle for the Oaks, was sold to the Wichita club of the Western league.

WHIPPETS TO RACE
Fifty of the world's fastest whippets will race today at Kezar stadium for a $5,000 purse and the 1926 title. Among these fifty dogs are twelve who arrived from the Atlantic coast yesterday. The eastern invaders include "Flying Boy" owned by the Astor Kennels of New Jersey.

WALKER
Since Pete Latzo dethroned Mickey Walker from the welterweight title rumors are about the region declaring that Jack Kearns is seeking another battle for his ex-champ with the Pennsylvania coal miner. It is reported that the Pennsylvania State Boxing board has given Kearns an unofficial report that the new champ will be forced to meet Walker again. Kearns is quoted as saying Walker was robbed of his title.

STEINER WINS OVER STANFIELD IN OREGON RACE

(By Universal Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Frederick Steiner is the nominee of the Republican party in Oregon to succeed United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield, the latter being eliminated in a race that was not even close.

The count is not complete, but the result is certain, in that race at least. The Multnomah county tabulations are complete and they usually tell the story in Oregon, and the 532 precincts give Steiner 14,858 and Stanfield 10,700. The State count, including Multnomah county, as far as it had progressed tonight, gave Steiner a total of 46,206 to Stanfield's 24,392—a lead of 21,814—which Stanfield cannot overcome.

Stanfield, the regular, and a fairly consistent supporter of the administration in Congress, will be succeeded by a man who is expected to uphold the White House at every turn. He will be as regular as a western senator from the farming country can be, and is eminently satisfactory to Oregon standpatters.

Bert E. Haney, former member of the United States Shipping board who defied President Coolidge last summer when the executive asked him to resign from the board, following differences over the National Marine policy, apparently has been nominated for the Senate by the Democrats, but

Plaintiff Rests Case in Big Suit

MARTINEZ, May 22.—After long weeks of testimony the plaintiff in the $619,000 damage suit of the Balfour-Guthrie company, against the Great Western Power company rested its case yesterday afternoon. Seven days were required for the plaintiff's testimony in the first trial. The defense is expected to be five or six weeks in presenting its case.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bosworth of Memphis, Tennessee, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Porter, 919 Thirty-seventh street left on Friday evening for Los Angeles.

Elton Watkins, former congressman, from the third Oregon district, is pressing him closely and the difference with the count still incomplete, is measured in hundreds. In a count including complete returns from 1326 precincts out of 1847 in the State, Haney is 694 votes ahead of his rival, Haney's total on this basis is 12,268 and Watkins is 11,574.

Congressman M. E. Crumpacker is the champion vote getter of the primaries. Practically unopposed, his plurality is 23,489. The total vote cast for him was 33,439.

Isaac L. Patterson, veteran legislator, was given 53,608 votes for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Jay H. Upton, veteran's candidate, 31,814 and William A. Carter, 19,219, with the count that remains certain to confirm the Patterson victory.

Walter M. Pierce, governor, has been renominated by the Democrats by a handsome majority. About 70 per cent of the total vote of the State was cast.

Accused Drunk Claims He Was Drugged, Robbed

When E. J. Platt appeared before Justice of the Peace Wade Moore at Pittsburg yesterday on a charge of drunkenness, he told the judge he had been drugged and robbed of $300. His charge was immediately dismissed. The arresting officer told the judge that the appearance of Platt was that of a man who had been given "knockout drops."

Platt declared he took a glass of gin in a Pittsburg pool room, where he was playing poker and he lost control of his faculties. When he regained consciousness he said, he found he had been robbed of $240 he had when he entered the establishment and $60 winnings at cards.

RETURNS FROM SAD MISSION

Ped Ross, 324 Sixth street, has returned from Brownsville, Ore., where he was called by the death of his mother, Mrs. Julia Craig, who passed away there last Sunday.

While in Oregon, Ross learned for the first time that his grandfather, Rev. Leandro N. Belleu, a Methodist missionary, was buried in 1849 on Alcatraz Island. Rev. Belleu came to California in 1845, after preaching his first sermon in Benton county. Oregon and shortly after coming here contracted cholera, dying a few days later.

His widow objected to a sea burial so the missionary was buried on the island. Mrs. Belleu, latter married Rev. Nathaniel Jack and the family moved to Brownsville, where the minister owned a donation land claim. Mrs. Craig, mother of Ross, was but a year old at the time.

Besides Ross, Mrs. Craig is survived by three children and two sisters.

PEAK WEEK OF AUTO SALES TO START MONDAY

(By Roy C. Hayes)
Automobile Editor
DETROIT, Mich., May 22.—Monday morning the automobile industry enters what is usually regarded as the "peak" sales week of the year. The week immediately preceding the Indianapolis 500 mile race has proven to be the banner one of the 52 in former years.

Recognition of the automobile as a year around necessity and resulting in more even sales distribution, has, in recent years, pared down the dominance of any one period in the sales column. The fourth week in May, however, continues to distinguish itself.

Production is running at the highest point so far this year. The recent temporary slackening noted in some quarters is no longer in evidence save in one or two instances. Hudson, Essex, last Monday, went back to a six week and proceeded to double the output of the Essex coach. Coupled with this was the formal announcement that any rumors to the effect that the Essex coach was to be discontinued were without foundation.

Chrysler is now at the busiest pace in the Corporation's history. Shipments of the new "60" model introduced a few weeks ago are running better than 350 daily. Chevrolet is preparing to launch a $10,000,000 expansion program the first of the month. Capacity of chevrolet plants will be increased to provide facilities for the output of one million chevrolet cars a year, closely rivaling the Ford total.

Dodge is operating at the best gait on record. Daily output approximates 1,600 cars with the factory well behind orders. An idea of the activity at the Oakland plant in Pontiac may be gleaned from the fact that the entire May production was sold before the close of April.

To Moon and Diana, down in St. Louis, goes the distinction of introducing the first 1927 models. Evidences of some of the trends that may be expected in next year's automobiles are noted in the new Diamas. Vision has been increased approximately 50 percent through the practical elimination of the "blind spot." Safety has been further considered in the adoption of steel in the bodies, which are now of combination wood and steel known as composition bodies.

The retail automobile business in Detroit is at the highest point of development. New car registrations here during April totaled 10,509 or 26 percent more than were registered in March of this year and 20 percent more than in April of last year. In the first four months of 1926, 26,722 cars were registered here, an increase of 18 percent over the corresponding period of 1925.

Five of the leading companies last month more than doubled their 1925 April sales in this district. They are: Oakland, Cadillac, Buick, Dodge and Nash-Ajax.

Library Expected To Establish New Record This Year

A record will probably be set when the library year ends on June 30, marking one of the most profitable years in the history of the local institution, according to Miss Norah McNeill, city librarian.

An increase of 22,339 books was borrowed over the same period of time for last year it is shown. This is the count of the main library and none for the three branches has been taken.

Twelve hundred and thirty-eight borrowers had registered for library privileges up to May 1.

Miss Florence Gould, an experienced children's librarian joined the staff on March 1 and has already made many friends among the users of the Boys' and Girls' Department. The picture collection is still the most popular feature of the department.

TEN NEW HOMES TO BE OPENED IN NEW TRACT

The ten new homes erected on Cutting Boulevard by Harold de Normandie, Berkeley contractor, will be thrown open for inspection today to the public.

Featuring the opening of these new bungalows will be one completely furnished by the L. H. Schrader company of this city. Furniture in full keeping and in tone with the rooms and also in keeping with the cost of the home itself has been installed, and the effect is expected to have an immediate appeal to every home lover.

Ray Schrader, of the Schrader Furniture company, informs the RECORD-HERALD that true color effect has been carried out in each of the rooms and that the hominess and comfort it instills is wonderful.

Of Spanish architectural design, these bungalows contain entrance hall, living room, with tiled fireplace, two bedrooms, kitchen, breakfast nook, bath, laundry and garage. Each room is of good size and is complete with electrical fixtures, and is being built and offered at a price within reach of everyone.

It is the intention of de Normandie to erect fifty of these homes in series of ten and the selling is in the hands of the Rush Realty company with offices at the track.

ROBAK ESTATE LETTERS ASKED

Through Attorney T. H. DeLay, John Robak petitioned for letters of administration in the estate of his brother, Joe Robak, one of the four men killed in the Giant powder blast. The estate consists of $193 due in wages from the powder company and the brother, who lives in Australia is the heir.

About Whooping Cough

By W. W. FRASER, M. D.

IN MY INTRODUCTORY remarks, last week, I promised that at this time I would say something about cutting short the course of some diseases which are usually supposed to have to run their course to such a termination as nature and time may bring about. I will take as an example WHOOPING COUGH, because that disease will be of general interest to mothers at this time.

Whooping cough manifests itself, at first, as a simple catarrh, the cough becoming gradually worse as the disease progresses, until finally the whoop is developed, when a typical attack may be described as follows:

The child seems to feel the oncoming paroxysm, and will run to the mother for support. The cough consists of a series of explosive coughs, following each other in quick succession, until the child seems unable to get its breath. The face will become deep red or purple, at times almost black, the veins of the face stand out prominently, the eyes are bloodshot, then follows a long drawn inspiration, accompanied by the characteristic whoop. Vomiting and nosebleeds are frequent. After an attack, the child seems to be exhausted, hardly able to stand, the mind is confused and the face is covered with perspiration. The disease may last three months, and in winter, when fresh colds are caught, it may last six months under the usual treatment as given by the average physician.

A long continued case is apt to be complicated by pneumonia, or other serious conditions, which, in the weakened condition of the little patient may, and does, frequently terminate fatally.

My experience is, that by PROPER TREATMENT, the disease can be greatly modified, and its course cut short, thus relieving the child from a vast amount of suffering and danger to life from the various complications which usually follow a severe protracted case.

My office is at 707 Macdonald avenue. Hours: 11 to 12 a. m., 1 to 4, and 6 to 7:30 p. m.

Specializing in rectal and chronic diseases.

W. W. FRASER, M. D.

P. S.—Next week I expect to tell the ladies a little story about cutting short a diseased condition which I know will interest them. Watch for it. Preserve these stories for future reference. If you do not believe that it pays to advertise, ask Mr. Read.

Unequaled Results With Unexampled Economy

Chrysler "70" satisfies the growing desire to make the dollar go farther—to make it buy more comfort and enjoyment.

Chrysler "70" is far less costly to buy and to keep. It gives twice the gasoline and oil mileage of many cars which it equals and surpasses in speed.

But Chrysler "70" superiority doesn't stop with a phenomenal performance. It goes deep into materials and manufacturing. No car is built of finer materials; no car is built to finer standards.

The result is that Chrysler "70" stands up without constant mechanical attention in a way that arouses the highest praise of men and women who are used to the very costliest cars.

Let us show you the Chrysler "70". Ride in it, drive it. That is the only way you can fully appreciate its remarkable qualities.

AUTOIST SAYS THAT AS A RULE HE KILLS THEM

MARTINEZ, May 22.—W. J. Du Bois, 65, a Concord farmer is in the county hospital with a fractured leg and H. L. Skyes is in the county jail facing a charge of driving an automobile while drunk. Skyes machine struck a horse and buggy driven by Du Bois last night and half an hour later crashed into a pole on the Willson Pass road, the authorities declared.

Du Bois declares Skyes told him that "I usually kill them when I hit 'em."

Skyes offered to take Du Bois to the hospital, but the offer was declined. Skyes machine crashed into a pole while he was continuing on his way to his home in Pittsburg.

He was arrested by the Pittsburg police and was sent to the county jail here.
